

Evaluation of Systems Strategies

When your community is to the point of identifying your other systems strategy and has identified action steps to reach your objective, Munroe-Meyer Institute will design evaluation tools specific to your strategy. Staff from MMI will meet with your group and based on that conversation, will develop the evaluation tools that you need for this strategy. Discuss with your Rooted in Relationships Coordinator when you feel you are ready for this step and the Coordinator will facilitate the initial contact between your local coordinator and the MMI staff.
